For several decades the Wellbriety movement has been dedicated to the healing of drug and alcohol addiction within Native American communities everywhere. Established in 1974, UAII has been providing Alcohol and Drug treatment for the Los Angeles Native American Community, with a strong emphasis on Native American Traditions. The Robert Sundance Family Wellness Center has hosted the Annual Wellbriety Recognition for the past two years. All proceeds from this fundraiser will fund the 3rd Annual Wellbriety Celebration held in September, as a part of National Recovery Month.
